Panel To Review Soviet Plan To Cut Military

Eight Man Group Meets Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia's announced plans for a big reduction in military forces will be reviewed by President Eisenhower's special eight-man panel of nuclear, military and industrial leaders starting May 29, Harold E. Stassen announced Friday.

Stassen told a news conference that the special group formed by Eisenhower last summer will assemble in Washington a week from Tuesday to begin an analysis of the "implications" of the Soviet announcement, along with the recent London disarmament talks which reached no conclusion.

The eight task force leaders presumably will recommend what moves if any this country should take in response to Moscow's announcement of last Monday that Soviet military forces will be reduced by 1,200,000 men.

Members of the group and the subjects assigned to them as disarmament consultants are: Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, nuclear; Gen. James H. Doolittle, air; Gen. Walter Bedel Smith, army; Adm. Oswald S. Colclough, navy; Benjamin Fairless, steel; Walker L. Cislser, power and industry; Dr. Harold Moulton, military budgets; and Dr. James B. Fisk, communications.

They went over the proposals which Stassen, Eisenhower's special assistant on disarmament, took with him to the London conference, where he conferred with Soviet and other leaders.

At his news conference Stassen evidenced much less skepticism than other officials have expressed concerning the Russian announcement of military manpower cuts. He disagreed with reporters suggested he might be out of step with the White House and State Department, both of which had voiced essentially negative reactions.

He said his attitude had to be measured in full context against the reactions of Secretary of State Dulles and the White House.

Only three days ago Dulles told a news conference that, as he saw it, the Soviet manpower cut was not basically a disarmament move, nor he stressed, would it reduce the Soviet Union's military power.

Checking Station For Radioactivity In State Capital

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A radioactivity monitoring station has been established atop the new State Office Building here, it was announced Friday.

Dr. Roland R. Cross, state health director, said the station is one of 27 in a nationwide network to study possible results of radioactive fallout on crops, water supplies and general health.

The Springfield checkpoint is one of three in Illinois to detect and measure radioactive pollution of the atmosphere from nuclear tests being conducted in the Pacific.

Several devices measure radioactive particles at the Springfield station, Cross said. One instrument consists of a small disc filter attached to a vacuum cylinder which sucks particles from the atmosphere.

Another catches heavier particles on an adhesive surface exposed for 24 hours, and still another collects rainfall to measure radioactivity.

The Atomic Energy Commission in Washington, D. C., said in April such safety operations are not being set up because of "possible hazard." The AEC explained they serve scientific purposes and keep the public informed on levels of radioactivity.

H-Test Postponed; One Missing As Bomber Crashes

USS Mt. McKinley Off Buiki (Saturday) — The H-bomb test has been postponed another day and task force officials Saturday revealed a light bomber taking off to join the test had crashed Friday, with one crewman rescued and one still missing.

The H-bomb shot now has been reset for Monday (Sunday U. S. time). It had been scheduled for Sunday.

The task force permitted announcement of the accident—Saturday after more than 30 hours of searching—which is still under way—for the missing man in an area about 50 miles off Eniwetok Island.

Aboard the light B57 bomber when it went out of control, compelling the two-man crew to eject themselves, were Capt. James Edward Hall, 29, who was rescued, of Caruthersville, Mo., and Capt. Paul M. Crumley, of Albuquerque, N. M., an officer observer who still is missing.

Atomic Jet Bomber Show Is Curtailed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Force plans for the mightiest display of atomic jet bomber strength ever flown over Washington were sharply curtailed Friday.

The aerial show, scheduled for Saturday's celebration of Armed Forces Day, was cut from 216 B47 atomic bombers to 45.

Pentagon officials attributed the cutback to fears by some high civilian officials that the proposed demonstration of air-atomic power might create an unfavorable world reaction, especially in view of current emphasis on disarmament efforts.

Sentence Woman At Springfield For Embezzlement

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A woman bank clerk was sentenced Friday to five years in prison and fined $5,000 for embezzling $171,000 from the Springfield Marine Bank.

U. S. Dist. Judge Charles G. Briggie imposed the sentence on Miss Helen Rose Mulcahey, 56, after denying her request for probation. The judge said that consideration of society generally and law enforcement outweighed any recommendations for probation.

Miss Mulcahey had been employed by the bank 34 years. When the shortage was discovered last February, she was in charge of the bank's collection department.

She had pleaded innocent to the charge but later changed to guilty.

Federal authorities said she invested some of the money in life leases and also helped support some of her relatives.

She was indicted on 10 counts, each carrying a maximum penalty of five years in prison and $5,000 fine.

Judge Briggie granted her a 10-day stay before beginning the sentence after her attorney, Arthur M. Fitzgerald, said he wanted additional time to "talk over some things" that might be helpful in making restitution of some of the money.

Fitzgerald also sought a delay until Miss Mulcahey has a surgical operation but Judge Briggie said the government would provide any needed medical care.

NEA Head Sees Day Of Plenty For Education
KANSAS CITY (AP) — A day of plenty for education was forecast Friday by the president of the National Education Assn. in a speech before the 65th annual convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Dr. John L. Buford, Mt. Vernon, Ill., said the day is coming when no one will have to "beg or wheedle for money for school buildings, teachers' salaries and so forth."

"People will be anxious to give it to us," said the head of the NEA.

This phenomenon, he said, will occur when people realize the importance of education.

"No one today questions how much an atomic bomb costs," he said. "We know we must have it and we don't question the cost. The same thing eventually will happen in education."

Dr. Buford said he believes fundamentals are being taught properly in the schools.

"I personally think that more children are reading more and much better than they ever have."

JERRY LEWIS HOSPITALIZED
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedian Jerry Lewis was hospitalized Friday for a check on a heart condition.

The 30-year-old Lewis complained Thursday night of a chest pain and his doctor ordered an electrocardiogram.

Dr. Marvin S. Levy said it showed a deviation from a previous reading.

He said Lewis' condition is not serious.

Jerry is currently working in a movie by day and had made a number of night personal appearances.

Senate Passes New Farm Bill

Contains Ike's Soil Bank Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed a new farm bill Friday night to replace the one President Eisenhower vetoed April 16. It is stripped of many features objectionable to the administration and gives the President the billion dollar soil bank program he requested.

Passage was on a voice vote. The bill now goes to the House for consideration of numerous changes written in by the Senate during a session lasting more than nine hours. The House version was passed May 3.

Sens. Aiken (R-Vt.) and Anderson (D-NM) expressed hope that the House would accept the changes and rush the legislation to the White House for Eisenhower's signature.

Aiken, senior GOP member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, has been serving as the administration's spokesman on farm policy in the Senate. Anderson is a former Democratic secretary of agriculture.

Members of both parties have said they want to get some relief legislation on the books as quickly as possible.

If the House refuses to accept the changes, another Senate-House conference committee will have to be appointed to iron out the differences. But Senate leaders exhibited confidence the House would go along with them.

The Senate bill, like the House measure, provides for a soil bank plan under which farmers could receive up to $1,200,000,000 a year in government benefits for withdrawing land from the production of crops already in surplus.

But neither branch of Congress voted to give Eisenhower the authority he requested to make up to 500 million dollars in advance payments on the soil bank this year. Without this authority, he contended, farmers would not receive any substantial soil bank benefits until 1957, since this year's growing season is so far advanced.

The bill does not contain the high, rigid price supports for basic crops, which was the major reason for Eisenhower's veto last month. A dual parity system for figuring the price supports and other features objectionable to the administration also have been dropped.

Before the final vote, the Senate settled its quarrel over price supports for feed grains.

Aiken and Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) won adoption of a compromise amendment which they said would put livestock feed grains on a fair basis in relation to corn grown in the big commercial corn belt. The vote on this issue was 73-14.

The compromise would provide generally lower price supports for feed grains than voted by the House and recommended by the Senate Agriculture Committee. It appeared to have removed the administration's principal objection to the new farm legislation.

Another section, on which both House and Senate are in agreement, would authorize 500 million dollars in payments to support perishable commodities and 200 million to help dispose of surplus products in a variety of programs.

The struggle over the feed grains was a long one. One part of the compromise would make oats, rye, barley, grain sorghums and corn grown outside the commercial area ineligible for benefits under the new soil bank plan.

Originally it was planned to have feed grain growers participate in the soil bank. Administration leaders protested this would bring 100 million more acres under compliance regulations and (Continued On Page Eleven)

Committee Rescinds Action Blocking U.S. Aid To Many Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee reversed itself Friday and voted down a proposal that might have blocked U. S. aid to many foreign nations.

But the committee came "very close" to slashing about a billion dollars out of President Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 aid bill. Then it decided to put off a final decision until next Tuesday.

Chairman Richards (D-SC) announced the committee actions after the fourth straight day of closed sessions on Eisenhower's foreign aid request for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Temporarily, at least Friday's decisions favored the administration. It had been expected to fight vigorously a proposal sponsored by Rep. Edna F. Kelly (D-NY) and adopted by the committee late Thursday.

The Kelly proposal was to bar U. S. aid to any country shipping strategic goods to the Communist bloc which the United States itself does not allow to be exported to the Reds. Many countries, including Great Britain, have been more lenient than the United States in allowing shipments to the Iron Curtain.

Richards said the committee reversed Thursday's decision and voted to knock the Kelly amendment out of the bill.

Since only 22 of the 32 committee members were on hand during the closed session, Richards said, a final decision on Eisenhower's money request was put off until next Tuesday when the remaining 10 votes could make a big difference.

Administration officials have said any cut below around four billion dollars may force a major revamping of the program to bolster free world countries against communism.

The aid measure is an authorization bill which sets the framework for the overseas program. Actual appropriations must be voted later in a separate bill.

TONGAY, CONVICTED IN AQUATOT'S DEATH, COMPLAINS OF JAIL
RAIFORD, Fla. (AP) — Russell Tongay, burly swimming instructor serving 10 years for manslaughter in the high-diving death of his daughter, says he has been "beaten and kicked" and confined in a dungeon on bread and water at the state prison.

Tongay made the charges in a letter to a friend, William Burrell Jr., Coral Gables High School swimming coach.

The Miami Daily News sent a reporter to Raiford to investigate Tongay's complaint. Warden DeWitt Sinclair refused permission for an interview. He called Tongay a "troublesome publicity seeker."

Sinclair said Tongay is "in maximum security" at Raiford. Tongay was convicted on a charge that he forced his 5-year-old daughter, who was fatally injured, and her brother, Bubba, once were famous as a swimming team called the "Aquatots."

Sterling Doctor Elected President Of State Society

CHICAGO (AP) — A Sterling, Ill., doctor who gave up a career as a school teacher to study medicine, Friday was named president elect of the more than 9,000-member Illinois State Medical Society.

Dr. Lester S. Reavley, 62, will take office next year for the 1957-1958 tenure, succeeding Dr. F. Lee Stone, of Chicago, who was installed Friday as president for 1956-1957.

A native of Springfield, Dr. Reavley taught in the grade schools of Riverfront, Ill., for four years before entering the Loyola University School of Medicine. He was graduated in 1921 and has been a practicing physician in Sterling since.

Other officers elected at the closing session of the society's 116th annual meeting are: first vice president, Dr. Frank H. Fowler, Chicago; second vice president, Dr. Norman L. Sheehy, Rockford; and secretary-treasurer, Dr. Harold M. Camp, Monmouth.

Dr. H. Close Hesselstine, professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Chicago, was elected chairman of the council, the society's governing body.

CAR KEEPS ITS 'PURR'
BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A housewife drove into a filling station Friday.

"Fill it up and check the oil," Mrs. Kathleen Head said. The attendant, Art Lowe, opened the hood and asked: "How's the car been running lately?"

Mrs. Head replied: "Purring like a kitten."

Lowe looked down. A cat was sitting next to the radiator. Lowe put the cat on the ground, but it scampered beneath the car and jumped atop the transmission.

Two other attendants jacked up the car but the cat couldn't be reached and was still there when Mrs. Head drove away.

French Battle To Halt Troop Departures

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — A mob of more than 300 fought police and wrecked railway equipment Friday night to stop departures of French troops to rebel North Africa.

Traffic was stalled here and through trains were detained around Grenoble.

The clash at the railroad station resulted in injuries to at least 30 persons. Some were seriously hurt.

Rails and switches were badly damaged in the Grenoble yards. The demonstrators blocked switches with iron bars.

A troop train bound for Chameroy started up and inched ahead about 50 yards. It was then forced to stop as police failed to clear crowds from the track.

At one point in a running battle the demonstrators seized tear gas and smoke bombs and threw them back at police.

Police sent for reinforcements.

Police Order Full Investigation Of Cross Burning

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Acting Police Supt. Guy Banister said Friday he wants to find out if the burning of a cross Thursday night on the grounds of the residence of Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel "has any connection with the rebirth of the Ku Klux Klan."

The 8-foot wooden cross, soaked with gasoline, was lit in front of Notre Dame Seminary adjoining the Catholic archbishop's residence. Firemen quickly snuffed out the blaze.

Banister said he had ordered a full investigation of the incident.

Archbishop Rummel said he had no comment to make on the incident.

Some Catholic groups have criticized the archbishop's opposition to racial segregation.

The archbishop in a pastoral letter three months ago, described segregation as "morally wrong and sinful" and indicated it would be ended in Catholic schools of the archdiocese which covers south Louisiana and south Mississippi.

Spot Check Shows Heavy Turnout Of Voters In Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Oregon Democrats decided between Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver as their write-in choice for president and Republicans named their hoped-for "man to beat" Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) in a briskly paced primary election Friday.

A spot check indicated an above-normal early turnout in populous Multnomah County (Portland). Hot weather encouraged morning voting. Polls closed at 8 p.m. (10 p.m. CST).

An estimated 24 per cent of the 256,000 Multnomah County voters completed their lengthy chore by noon as compared with 15 per cent in the 1952 presidential primary. Balloting was fairly heavy as well in Roseburg and Eugene. The line-up began early in Salem.

Neither Stevenson nor Kefauver appeared on any of the myriad ballots—up to five in some areas. They staked their pitch for the state's 16 Democratic delegates—and a lift for two big primaries ahead—on a late-starting write-in campaign.

Republicans were drawn to the polls by a vigorous fight between two major candidates for the GOP senatorial nomination who played heavily on pledging support to the Eisenhower administration.

Both Douglas McKay, a former governor of Oregon and outgoing secretary of the interior, and Phil Hitchcock, a fast-rising newcomer to the political big time, contended for the job. McKay was the best man to defeat Morse in the fall.

Morse, competing as a Democrat for the first time, had only taken opposition on his own ticket. He has been a leading critic of McKay's policies on natural resources while in the Cabinet post. McKay called the Democrats "giveaway" charges a lie.

New election procedure, the ponderous ballot and the time out to pencil in the Democratic preferences for president encumbered what was something of a workout for the voters. This was also expected to slow the ballot counting.

It was strictly a popularity test. President Eisenhower's was the only name on the GOP ballot, unchallenged for 18 Republican delegates. The Democratic write-in will bind the state's vote at the party's National Convention to the high man.

Kefauver and Stevenson apparently saw the Oregon primary as a chance to help swing undecided voters in the final two major primaries. Once committed to the write-in drive, they stumped the state intensively.

The two rivals based their build-up for the Florida primary—May 29; 28 delegates—and California's June 5; 68 delegates—on much way station and the hotel.

Trumans Occupy Eisenhower Suite In Hotel In Rome
ROME (AP)—Tourist Harry Truman came to Rome Friday and the management of his hotel put him and Mrs. Truman in the Eisenhower Suite.

The suite—sitting room, bedroom and bath—was occupied several times by President Eisenhower while he was commander of Allied forces in Europe and the Hassler Hotel named it for him.

Truman's welcome to Rome was a rousing one. Thousands of citizens waved the ex-President along the sunny streets between the railway station and the hotel.

Editorial Comment

Senator Johnson's Victory

Sen. Lyndon Johnson's sweeping primary victory in Texas has major meaning for the 1956 Democratic presidential contest.

Though he will now be Texas' favorite son at the Aug. 13 Chicago convention, Johnson's candidacy is not to be taken too seriously. There is still no sign that a majority of the delegates would be likely to accept a fulfilled southerner as presidential nominee.

But if some other southern states should in the weeks ahead rally to Johnson's banner, then his convention strength might well be a determining factor in the convention outcome.

Big primary victories in Oregon, Florida and California for Adlai Stevenson would, of course, restore him to a commanding position in the race. In such event, little doubt exists that he could muster a majority at Chicago.

But a weak or barely passable showing in any of those spots will injure his prospects materially.

As for Sen. Estes Kefauver, only the most overwhelming primary triumphs over Stevenson might jar certain leading Democratic professionals loose from their prejudices against him. His nomination chances still must be rated low.

Thus anything like a standoff between these two men would tend to leave the field open at Chicago, and would enhance Johnson's potential as a "balance of power" factor.

Should he be able to go to Chicago with a good-sized block of delegates, the southerners obviously would have a large voice in the selection of a compromise nominee. They might bar the way for a too-liberal candidate, or help put over an acceptable conservative.

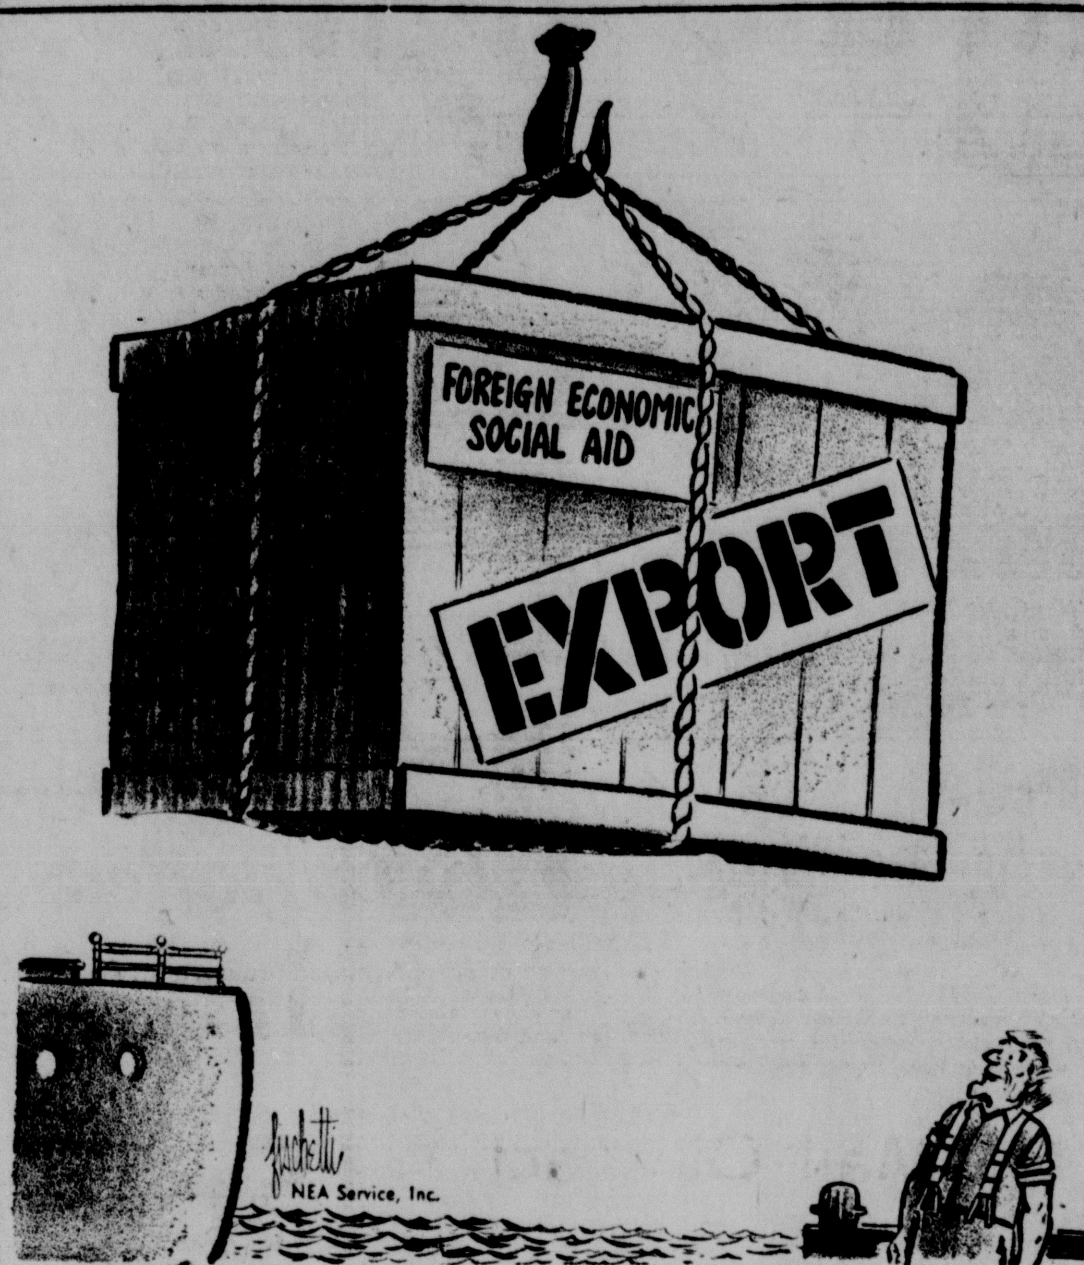

Moreover, they would be in a position to bargain effectively for a civil rights platform plank suitable to the South.

This is the prime significance of Johnson's victory over Gov. Allan Shivers in the Texas precinct primaries. But it means, too, that new strength is given the moderate forces in Texas and the South, for moderation is Johnson's theme.

Furthermore, Johnson's power and prestige both in Congress and the Democratic party are automatically bolstered by this showing at home. He is clearly a force to be reckoned with both in politics and policy.

The nation's politicians will watch now to see what other southern political strength may choose to gather around his standard. That development will be a big key to events at Chicago in August.

Bread Upon the Waters

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower started his security program three years ago this month. How has it worked? Democrats called it a "numbers racket." Republicans seem pleased with it.

But they have begun to tone down portions of the program under repeated attacks as too often unfair to individuals.

The public will have to wait until next year for anything like an impartial judgment. A special 12-member commission created by Congress last year to examine the program said this week it can't finish before 1957.

This will hardly keep the politicians from kicking it around a bit in this year's campaign. But the Republicans won't be able to beat the Democrats over the head with the issue as easily as in the past. It turns out the Republicans themselves hired a big batch of the people they had been calling security risks.

The Republicans helped get themselves elected in 1952 with their charges of "Communists in government" and their attacks on President Truman's loyalty-security program.

When they won, they substituted their own program for Truman's, but they oversold themselves on how good it was. When they put it in operation May 27, 1953, Atty. Gen. Brownell predicted all security risks would be out of the government by the following September.

But they kept on finding security risks, or so they said, and produced figures which they threw at the Democrats in the 1954 congressional elections in attempts to show that they had inherited a "mess."

The way the Republicans, particularly Vice President Nixon, used these figures angered the Democrats. Nixon, always a man for a colorful phrase, said:

"We are kicking the Communists and fellow-travelers and security risks out of the government... by the thousands."

Last autumn Philip Young, chairman of the Civil Service Commission and the administration's chief custodian of figures on security risks, told a congressional committee:

1. Since the start of the Eisenhower program two years before 9,270 persons had quit their government jobs or been fired under the security program but —

2. He had no breakdown on how many of the 9,270 were considered subversive and how many were alcoholics or sexual perverts or otherwise unfit for a government job.

And last January, under prodding by Democratic senators, Young said 41 per cent of those who had left their jobs under a security cloud had been hired by the Eisenhower administration. The rest were holdovers from Truman's days.

Truman's program was a two-in-one arrangement: One covered employees of questionable loyalty; the other handled security risks — workers who might be completely loyal but might jeopardize national security because, for instance, they held a sensitive job but drank or talked too much.

The Truman security program covered only some government agencies, those which in some way were involved in national security. Eisenhower lumped the program into one big catch-all, covering all agencies.

Under the Truman program an employee whose agency head wanted to fire him could appeal to a special loyalty review board which could reverse the agency head.

Eisenhower wiped out this board. And Eisenhower gave each agency head broad authority for setting up his own standards for judging employees.

GOP Sees a Balanced Economy in Election Year

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Eisenhower administration and the Republican party go into the six-month period before election feeling that the country is in a pretty good position businesswise—in spite of complaints—with the economy in balance.

There are both inflationary and deflationary pressures. This is considered a good thing for the country as a whole, though it is tough on anyone who gets caught under one or the other of the pressures.

Farming and the auto industry are regarded as the two weakest links, with definite deflationary influences. Much of the inflationary influence is traced primarily to the steel industry. These three account for a good share of the total economy. What happens to them affects every other line.

Auto trouble is blamed on the industry itself. It built too many cars last year and tried to force them on the market. This was obvious in December.

Attendance At This Year's auto shows was good, however. The industry thought there would be a pickup—first in January, then March, then May. Now it is recognized it may not come till fall. Auto layoffs cut down trade in other lines and so are deflationary.

Administration leaders look with great hope on recent farm price increases, though they haven't been much. It is felt that farmers are more interested in good cash prices than they are in parity or supports.

There is considerable reliance on the belief that good farmers don't want to see artificially high prices. They are said to bring too many city "suitcase" farmers into the field to overproduce, create surpluses, drive cash prices down.

The drive on and in Congress to give the farmers more cash income immediately is more political than economic. But so long as farm prices are depressed, they are deflationary in that they curtail buying by farmers.

The Big Inflationary Pressure in steel comes from what industry leaders regard as a position in which they can't lose in the new steel wage negotiations ahead.

If union demands are high and the industry won't meet them, it could result in a strike. Steel strikes are usually long. Such a tieup would cause a rise in prices for available supplies of steel to keep other industries going.

If union demands are moderate and are met without a strike, there will still be a price rise. Some little steel men advocate it now, without waiting for big steel leadership.

Both possibilities promote steel buying to build up inventories, thus causing inflationary pressure.

There is an admitted difference of opinion between Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey and Federal Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martin, Jr., on what to do.

Humphrey took the view that conflicting inflationary and deflationary pressures were more or less in balance. If let alone, they would correct themselves in time.

Directors in 11 of the 12 Federal Reserve Districts felt that the great drive for business expansion—sparked by the demand for steel which goes into almost every line of business—needed some further curtailment.

This is what lay behind the recent fifth increase in Federal Reserve discount rates. In the past year they have gone up from 1½ per cent to 2½ and 3 percent. This has been passed on in higher interest rates banks charge their borrowers.

In some cases, big companies with long-established credit lines have been asked to reduce their borrowings by half. And they have been charged as much as 5½ per cent for what they did get. Consequently they're screaming at Washington for a relaxation of credit restrictions.

Chairman Martin defends the FRB action as necessary to curb inflation. But the spectacle of big business criticizing Republican fiscal policy in an election year is unique.

'RESTLESS LEGS' MAY DISTURB SLEEP; SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT UNKNOWN

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

What seems to me a most curious condition yet one which seems rather common, is brought up today.

Q—What causes my legs to ache, yet not really ache at all, so much so that I can't keep them still when sleeping at night? If I do get to sleep at night in the morning my legs are numb from my knees to my ankles.—Mrs. J. M.

A—Mrs. M.'s description fits a condition which has been unofficially named "Restless Legs." According to published reports the most characteristic symptom consists of a feeling of weakness in the legs and a sensation of cold or perhaps numbness. It usually does disturb sleep and it is thought that those suffering from this disorder move their feet continually in order to get some relief. Apparently, however, this motion is not particularly effective. What causes restless legs is not known, though there are some reasons to believe that the difficulty lies in the nervous system. Others suggest that it comes somehow from poor circulation. Neither massage nor heat treatments appear to have much effect and indeed a satisfactory treatment, so far as I know, has not been devised.

Q—My husband has noticed that the large muscle in the upper part of his right arm has been slowly disappearing. He measured it and found that the diameter was at least a half inch less than the left. Do you think this is serious?—P. N. J. D.

A—This sounds like one of the rarer diseases of muscle. I think it is essential for your husband to be thoroughly examined to try to find what is responsible.

Q—I feel well physically but after the evening meal my heart skips beats when I am seated. As soon as I walk about it stops. I am a nervous person and wonder if this could be the cause.—F. R. N.

A—The most likely explanation is a condition known as extrasystole. This is not considered a serious heart disease by itself and is characterized by an extra large beat followed by a pause which may appear like skipping a beat. Many people have this at one time of life or another and then it disappears. Possibly emotional strain is a factor. It is advisable, under such circumstances, to have a heart examination and unless some other condition of the heart is found, to take this situation in stride and not become too concerned about it.

Q—I have had asthma for a number of years. If I go from a warm room to a cold one or from cold to warm I get pains in my chest. Can something be done about it?—W. A.

A—The asthma, of course, should be treated by the best methods available. The only other thing that I can suggest is to avoid, in so far as possible, going from one place to another with contrast in temperature.

Q—Can appendicitis be chronic for 40 years? Also, will an X-ray picture show whether the appendix is diseased?—C. E. G.

A—I should doubt very much that the appendix would remain chronically inflamed for 40 years although repeated episodes of acute or sub-acute appendicitis are not uncommon. Since the appendix consists of soft tissue, the use of an X-ray film is of little value in deciding whether it is inflamed or not.

Q—I have enlarged glands which are lumpy in my neck and under my arms but they are not painful. What do you think they are?—Mrs. J. C.

A—I do not know what they are since there are several possibilities. It would almost certainly be advisable to remove one of them (a simple procedure) so that it can be examined under the microscope. This procedure is called a biopsy and is commonly done under such circumstances.

NOTE ON QUESTIONS

Dr. Jordan is unable to answer directly individual questions from readers. However, once a week, in this "Q & A" column he will answer the most interesting and the most frequently asked questions received during the week.

Why should I be so difficult to thank God for the things we have?

Why could we not easily pray for guidance in everyday living?

It is so hard to ask God's blessings on our friends and even on those who disagree with us?

When the going is normal they do not know what to say in their prayers.

Boyle's Column

BURNSVILLE, N. C. (AP)—The southern highlands are full of wonderful old ladies with memories as green as a hemlock tree and an outlook on life as durable as an oak.

A fine example is Mrs. Julia Wray, who is 86 years old, weighs 135 pounds, and has 17 rocking chairs on her front porch.

Mrs. Wray, who wears her age as lightly as a summer gown, is the queen bee innkeeper of this part of the Blue Ridge Mountains. She operated the Nu-Way Inn, one of the best known hostleries in the hills, with the help of her son, Rush, and daughter-in-law, Jane.

The inn, originally built in 1833, was bought by her father in 1870. In the long years since then Julia grew up, married, raised five children and, in 1932, became a widow. The inn grew, too, from 8 rooms to 40.

A proud-spirited lady with eyes still as blue as a mountain sky at noon, Mrs. Wray never leaned on anything in her life until recently she had to start using a cane, which she detests. She loves to recall changing times, changing customs, changing prices.

"I first remember when we would put up a man for the night and serve him supper and breakfast — all for a dollar," she said, and added smilingly: "Some people even kicked at that. They felt we ought to give them a prize for coming."

Today folks often drive a hundred miles for Mrs. Wray's famous $2.50 Sunday dinner, served family style. There is no menu—but no lack of choice.

Here is what the guest usually finds on the table:

Hickory smoked country ham, chicken and dressing, rice and gravy, garden lettuce wilted down with bacon dressing, buttermilk biscuits, a salad plate, cole slaw, vine-ripened tomatoes, and —

Green peas, home-baked beans, corn pudding, candied yams, Mashed potatoes with cheese, summer squash, turnip greens, navy beans, corn bread, country butter, apple butter, and —

Watermelon rind pickle, chow

chow, sourwood honey, blackberry jam, home-made pie, buttermilk, sweet milk, iced tea, coffee, ice cream and fluffy home-made chocolate layer cake.

Guests often make a game of sampling everything on the table, and this pleases Mrs. Wray.

Mrs. Wray has an idea this generation would feel better if it worked harder and worried less. She herself usually still gets into the kitchen each morning before the help arrives. She puts up hundreds of jars of fresh fruits and vegetables — "I never used store-bought preserves in my life" — and supervises the smoking and dipping of 300 country cured hams each year.

When I asked her the secret of her vigorous serenity at 86, Mrs. Wray looked surprised that any one should think achieving the age of 86 was in any way remarkable.

"Why, I always done my part," she observed mildly, "but I was always the sickly one in my family."

Mountain people are instinctively modest and honest. A puzzled expression came over Mrs. Wray's fine, sturdy, time-lined old face as she mentally reviewed her long lifetime to see if she deserved any personal credit for her longevity. She decided she didn't.

"Maybe," she remarked, her eyes softening, "I was left here for a purpose I don't understand." In the mountains God always gets his due.

"I can top that one" is hardly a gracious way to introduce your own story when it follows another's story or anecdote. A better way to begin is "That reminds me..."

Let your story speak for itself. Don't brag that it is better than the one that went before it.

Do haircuts have anything to do with delinquency? If that sounds like a silly question, consider the following:

In one section of a southern city, school officials made a flat rule that boys could not come to school wearing bizarre haircuts such as the "duck tail" or "hop" cut. And no longer could they attend classes wearing blue jeans anchored at hip level, with shirttails flapping in the breeze.

The order was for standard hair cuts and conventional dress. Two weeks after it went into effect there hadn't been a single instance of misbehavior reported.

The boys came to school looking respectable. And lo and behold, they began to act respectable, too.

This is really not so strange. For when a boy peroxides his hair, it grows into ducktails in back, gets on a pair of tight blue jeans and a loud shirt which he doesn't bother to tuck in, he looks like a tough. The next step is to walk with a rolling swagger, talk tough and maybe add a switchblade knife as a natural accessory for the weird get-up.

From there on it is headed for trouble. He is a sneering, swaggering wise guy who feels he has to live up to his get-up.

PERHAPS parents and schools all over the country would be doing teen-agers a real favor if they cracked down on outlandish styles in dress and haircuts.

We've glamorized these crazy fads, that teen-agers go in for, too long.

Isn't it about time we let teen-agers know that we expect them to look respectable? If we get them to looking like clean-cut, well-brought-up children perhaps it will be easier for them to act that way.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If the trend continues, graduates of the Actor's Studio may prove as sought-after as fledgling engineers.

You know how the big corporations send talent scouts to universities in hopes of enlisting engineering graduates? I have visions of the same thing happening at the Actor's Studio—representatives standing outside the place, waiting to grab acting hopefuls as they emerge.

It hasn't happened yet, but it could. After all, the New York acting school has produced such notables as Marlon Brando, the late James Dean, Rod Steiger, Paul Newman, Eva Marie Saint, Julie Harris, Jo Van Fleet, and provided training for such earnest learners as Marilyn Monroe and Shelley Winters.

The studio's latest contribution to Hollywood is a blonde beauty named Elaine Aiken. Signed by Paramount only a few weeks ago, she is already finishing up her first starring role in "The Lonely Man."

Now she has rented a home high atop the Hollywood hills and Paramount is predicting big things for her film career.

To gaze at Elaine with her high cheek bones and blonde hair, you'd never guess that her blood was pure Spanish. She was born Elena Angela Arizmendi seven months after her parents had arrived in New York from Spain.

A Glance Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Morgan county old age pensioners on the May payroll numbered 882 and received a total of $29,161, an average of $33.06.

The first truck loads of building materials for the Veterans Housing Units at Illinois College arrived.

The residence property at 933 South Clay Avenue belonging to the Mary Ann Megowan estate was sold at auction to Clarence and Harold Black for $1,620.

The Jacksonville High School band presented its May concert in the Jacksonville High School auditorium.

20 YEARS AGO

Benjamin Rea, a former Murrayville man, was injured in an automobile accident at Peoria.

A county-wide Farm Bureau meeting was held in Jacksonville. Three hundred Republicans from the 20th district attended a meeting in Peoria.

50 YEARS AGO

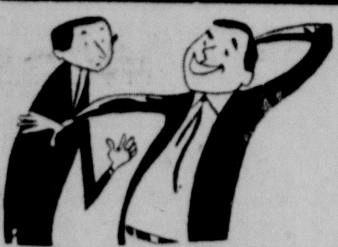

There was a freight wreck in the Chicago & Alton railroad yards in Jacksonville.

Jacksonville firemen had a busy day answering three alarms, one to the home of Pat Miller, 313 North West street, the second to the home of J. P. Desliva on North Diamond street and another to the Jacksonville Water company yards west of the city.

Bids were asked for the erection of a new school building at the Illinois Woman's College.

Jacksonville was selected as the meeting place for the Illinois State U.C.T. convention.

OVER 175 HORSEPOWER IN RESERVE!

... when you're cruising at everyday speeds!

THE ROCKET'S EXTRA MARGIN OF POWER MEANS AN EXTRA MARGIN OF SAFETY!

HIGH HORSEPOWER... high torque... high compression. It takes all three to describe Oldsmobile's Rocket! But there's still another important side to the picture.

It's reserve power—in abundance! In fact, at normal cruising speeds the Rocket still has more than 175 horsepower left... beyond what it takes to propel the car! It's this reserve that whips you through a passing situation so quickly, so effortlessly.

That means economy, too! The Rocket just eases along, when lesser engines are straining. You can see the result in Oldsmobile's double victory in the Mobilgas Economy Run!

The modern "big bore—short stroke" design cuts friction and power loss. The Rocket's design made high compression practical... and today's Rocket hits a high 9.25 to 1 compression!

Come take the wheel of a Rocket Oldsmobile. You will feel a distinct difference in performance, in riding and handling qualities... just as you see a glamorous difference in Oldsmobile's beauty. We'll be looking for you soon!

NON-SHAGGY DOG STORY—In Crawfordsville, Ind., when Charles T. Stephenson yells "Next," it's quite likely that his boxer, "Toni," will leap into the chair. Sometimes Toni gets the works, both a haircut and a little tonic, as shown above. Stephenson claims she always waits her turn, and doesn't try to exercise the "ladies-first" prerogative.

"Q" Mail Contract To Expire June 1

Postmaster Philip Day announced Friday that a star truck route will be established between Jacksonville and Springfield effective June 1, to replace mail service when the existing contract between the post office department and C.B. & Q. railroad for transporting mail, will expire. A mail truck will leave this city at 10:40 a.m. (DST) and arrive in Springfield at 12:20 p.m. A star mail truck will leave the Springfield at 12:50 p.m. (DST) and arrive in Jacksonville at 2 p.m.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
AP News Analyst
President Sukarno of Indonesia has read to the United States one of the best lessons it has ever had on the feelings and intentions of Asia.

By not pulling his punches, by his familiarity with and admiration for American institutions, by his expression of obviously sincere gratitude for the reception accorded a revolutionary leader and

"poor man's son," he has captivated Washington. Indonesia and Asia are going after stable independence in their own way, he said, and would not sell a bit of it for all the dollars or rubles in the world.

He criticized the American military aid program as making recipients dependent on America, and stressed the need for economic development without political strings.

He speaks much of democracy, but reminds that ballots are not edible. "We believe in methods and ideals of democracy but... in the midst of want, social inequality and poverty, democracy cannot exist for long."

Sukarno made a good impression on a Congress which was even at the moment thinking of curtailing rather than expanding the administration's authority to prosecute the foreign aid program.

Western colonialism is still so real to all the Asiatic leaders that they fear it more than the prospect of a new Communist colonialism. The clanking of Eastern Europe's chains cannot be heard very loudly along the shores of the Pacific and the Indian Oceans.

It becomes increasingly clear that the United States cannot win these peoples to its side in the cold war. The only possibility is to keep them from taking the other side.

This morning at the market a reporter questioned me:

- Q. You're a home maker and mother?
- A. Yes.
- Q. Do you and your family attend Church?
- A. Every week, unless prevented by illness.
- Q. Surely you don't take the children when they're small?
- A. Oh yes. It's been proved that habits formed during the first five years establish a pattern for life.
- Q. When it's raining or snowing doesn't it often seem best to stay home?
- A. No. Bad weather doesn't usually keep us from doing other things we want to do. Besides, children go to school on rainy days so why not to Church and Bible School?
- Q. Then you feel regular worship is good for a family?
- A. Not only good but necessary. Religious training is the fourth R, and the most vital part of our learning to live.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Color in Plant Leaves Adds to Garden Beauty

COLEUS. Texture and color of foliage are important factors in ornamental gardening. Many annual flowers with brightly colored leaves can be used with pleasing effects in flower beds and borders. Tall plants are useful to screen out undesirable views; and bushy plants serve well to fill up shady corners.

Largest of the foliage plants that grow quickly from seed is the castor bean. Varieties of this grow from 6 to 12 feet tall. Their large leaves of bronzy green with red or purple veins will fill the same space as a large shrub or small tree. They will serve well to test the effect of such a plant in the landscape you are planning.

In the leaves of amaranthus tricolor (Joseph's coat) scarlet, gold, bronze and green are attractively combined. It makes a bush 2½ feet tall, which contributes its bright colors to the garden picture all summer.

Coleus, a favorite of our grandmothers, can be grown from seed in a variety of brilliant colors. It does well in the sun or light shade and is excellent for planting boxes which do not get the southern sun.

Flowering kale, a member of the cabbage family, becomes a colorful subject in the fall. Its dark green leaves develop color patterns in white, cream, pink, rose, and purple, which become more brilliant as the season advances.

Kochia burning-bush makes a 2½ foot conical plant of fine light green foliage, which can be trimmed like a hedge, and used to enclose a bed or provide an attractive background. In the early fall, the whole bush becomes bright carmine.

Celosias (cockscomb), bear plumes of a texture resembling plush or chenille, colored in tones of red, pink, yellow and orange. There are many varieties of different heights and forms. Some are used by florists in making corsages and the plumes are easily dried for winter use.

Euphorbia (snow on the mountain) is related to the poinsettia. It grows 2 feet tall, and bears leaves of dark green edged with white, which are attractive foils for brighter colored plants.

The spider plant, cleome pungeas, with its divided leaves and dark stems, is a desirable foliage plant even before its attractive flowers develop.

Leaves of flowering plants differ in tones of green, and for gardeners interested in color composition, there are blue green, gray greens, and yellow greens to consider. Stocks and California poppies have gray-green foliage which is a restful foil for their brilliant flowers. Nasturtiums have yellow green leaves, which add to the interest of their section of the garden.

Waverly Woman's Club Department Committees Name

WAVERLY—Miss Jessie Farmer and Mrs. William Edmondson were hostesses to the garden and art department of the Woman's Club Friday, May 11, at the home of Miss Farmer.

In the absence of the chairman, Mrs. George LaRue, the meeting was in charge of the vice chairman, Mrs. Floyd Schramm, who led the members in the pledge to the flag to open the meeting.

After the roll call, reading of the minutes and their approval, a short business meeting was held, then the meeting was turned over to the new chairman, Mrs. Newt Turner, who read her committees as follows:

Program committee, Mrs. W. H. Neece, Mrs. Floyd Schramm, and Mrs. William Edmondson; transportation committee, Mrs. William Edmondson, Mrs. Lewis Walker and Mrs. J. J. Woods; courtesy committee, Miss Eunice VanWinkle, Mrs. George LaRue and Mrs. Curtis Keen; phone committee, Mrs. O. H. Miller, Mrs. Thomas Stubblefield, Mrs. Charles Challans and Mrs. Clarence Wiggins; membership committee, Mrs. W. E. Miller, Mrs. Ollie Maher, Miss Jessie Farmer, Miss Sno Miner and Mrs. J. O. Standifer; nominating committee, Mrs. C. C. Woods, Mrs. Earl Challans and Mrs. H. A. Coleman; press committee, Miss Ruth Walters and Mrs. H. E. Funk.

At the close of the business meeting Miss Elizabeth Lahmeyer from the Anderson Clayton Company of Jacksonville gave some demonstrations in food. She made a custard rhubarb pie, a speed mix pound cake, iced a cake after making the icing and made biscuits and corn fritters, all of which were later served by the hostesses, with the addition of chicken salad and coffee.

Guests present were Mrs. Roy McCracken, Mrs. B. B. Thomas, Mrs. Edythe Stone and Mrs. Cliff Harris.

A PLANNED PROGRAM FOR YOU THIS SUMMER STARTS JUNE 4

You can make your Summer months pay big dividends, by mastering office skills.

If you are an undergraduate, and don't expect to include typewriting in your high school schedule, you can learn it in Summer School.

If you are graduating, and did not take the commercial course, you can get a head start in Summer in a Secretarial or Accounting Course.

If you plan to go to college, shorthand and typewriting will help you to get better grades, and to hold a part-time office job.

If you took the commercial course and would like advanced training to increase your speed and learn additional business subjects, Summer training will qualify you for greater opportunities.

If you are a veteran you can prepare in 48 to 96 weeks for a career in Accounting or Business Administration.

Best Buick Yet

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

Now, in today's great Buick that's 97 ways new, Buick engineers have advanced Dynaflo still further with something they call "double regeneration."

It's a new way to make whirling oil add to its own velocity and produce a new fast-torque build-up at only part throttle—in the range where you do most of your normal driving.

Presto! In the first inch of pedal travel, you get a swift and solid new getaway response—with absolute smoothness—and with increased gas mileage to boot.

Then, when you need a zooming safety-surge to get out of a tight spot—you floor the pedal and switch the pitch. Instantly—and still with absolute smoothness—you're at full-power acceleration, like a pilot leaving the runway.

That's what we mean by a modern transmission.

And with it goes modern power—the highest horsepower and compression ratios in all Buick history.

With it, too, goes a whole list of new advancements—a great new ride—a superb new handling ease and surer "sense of direction"—a tasteful luxury in the new interiors—a bold and rakish new sweep-ahead styling that says '56 Buick and nothing but.

Come see for yourself—the most modern thing on wheels, and the most sensible buy on the market. Can you make it today?

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

Gardening Is Easy With Few Simple Rules

Everyone enjoys having a beautiful garden and yard, but most people think it requires a "green thumb." It doesn't! The garden enthusiast may have a garden and yard to be proud of simply by following a few simple rules and using good, common sense.

One of the real secrets of successful gardening is having the necessary equipment and keeping it all in one location, saving time otherwise spent in looking for a trowel or a watering can. The garden equipment center may be located in the garage, basement or tool shed.

Every garden and lawn equipment center should contain at least these tools: rake, hoe, spading fork, shears, trowel, cultivator, lawn edger, pruning saw, galvanized steel pail and sprinkling can, stakes, wheelbarrow and basket or laundry tub. Other times to be kept in the garden center other than tools include canvas gloves, fertilizers, lawn and plant foods, mulch or compost, weed killers and potting soil.

When Pets and Children Roam It's Best to Get Fences Built

This is the time of year when pets and children start to roam. 's the time of year when most housewives wish again they had a fence around their own little world to keep their own pets and children home and to shut out non-members of the family. Fortunately, fences can be beautiful as well as utilitarian. Take the new basketweave design, or the shadow offset fence, or the medium or high estate-type enclosures as examples of beauty and utility.

Any handyman can build these fences, even friend husband with a spare weekend on his hands. The materials are easily obtained at any retail lumber yard. Posts of durable western red cedar can be bought all cut to size without waste, and the boards of cedar or Douglas fir are in handy lengths and widths. You can use lower priced lumber such as utility or economy grades of cedar or fir to build these fences. You can either leave them to weather a warm, natural color or you can use any of the smart new stains to add color and preservative qualities.

The basket weave fence is simply built. Place heavier posts at eight or ten foot intervals, then using a one-by-three inch upright board as a divider or spacer, start weaving long boards which fit the openings between large posts, using upright spacer and posts to develop the basketweave pattern. Boards can be six, eight or ten inches wide. Cooling breezes can get through, but most animal pets are stopped cold.

Offset fences are a modification of the estate fence. Posts are set, and top and bottom rails applied, then fence boards are nailed with alternate boards on opposite sides of the rails. This creates a breeze fence but shuts out the view of outsiders. You can build little recess niches in your estate fences with shelves to hold choice potted plants.

Most hardware stores now stock bags of ready-mix cement, developed with the home handyman in mind. Such cement is easily mixed with water in an ordinary pail, and is applied like regular cement right from the pail.

The only tools needed for most of the cement repair jobs are the proper amount of cement, a trowel, a mixing paddle and a pail.

Clean those greasy range parts easily by soaking them overnight in a pail filled with a solution of ammonia, detergent and water. Then wipe them with steel wool to make them as bright and clean as new.

Steel Garbage Cans Protect Family Health

Cardboard and wooden boxes are condemned by health officials as containers for garbage. Such receptacles, they say, offer no protection against rats, and, unless completely covered, are equally ineffective against flies.

Both rats and flies are primary carriers of many of the diseases to which man may fall victim. In cities and towns the main source of food for rats and flies is uncovered garbage. The rat and fly population could be substantially reduced by starvation, health authorities say, if all garbage were kept in galvanized steel garbage cans equipped with close-fitting covers.

Most homes should have two or more garbage cans to prevent overloading which does not permit the covers to fit snugly. Too often, when only one can is used, the can is forced to hold more garbage than its capacity allows.

Garbage cans are made in capacities from four to 32 gallons and are available at all hardware stores and many general merchandise stores. They are made of smooth, durable steel, making them easy to clean.

TECHNIQUES FOR MAKING HOME PAINTING EASIER

Windows—First paint around each pane of glass with a sash brush. A sash tool with bristle set at an angle is a big help. Use brush edgewise. Start each stroke by pressing the point of the brush into a corner and brushing away so that the strokes meet near the center of each sash. Then—after finishing sashes paint the frame with a wider brush. Don't paint the "slots" in which double-hung windows slide.

Trim—Start at the top and work down. If doing both wall and woodwork—paint walls first.

Doors—It's much easier if you take them off their hinges and lay them on chairs. Do casing first, starting at jamb and working out. Do door panels next, starting with the border molding and brushing away from each corner. Next cross-brush panel starting at each side and brushing little more than half-way across so that strokes overlap.

Next do the exposed edge, then cross bars and side pieces. Furniture—It is worthwhile to remove all hardware and knobs, etc. Sand rough spots with "00" sandpaper and dust thoroughly. Get all dust out of corners with a cloth dampened with paint thinner. If any dust is left in corner or crevices, your brush will pick it up and spread it over the surface. Always do the undersides and insides first. You can't get at these parts when the rest of the surface is wet.

Turn tables, chairs, etc., upside down—and save yourself effort by raising to convenient working height. Tables can be placed on boxes. Underparts of a chair can be reached easily by placing the seat on the edge of a table.

Remove drawers and stand them on their backs. Take off pulls. Only the front and the top edge of the front should be painted. The other surfaces, including the inside, should be shellacked.

Use a separate brush for shellac. Finish all edges last, working with a small brush from the center to each end. Be careful not to overlap the top.

Finishing Touches—No matter how careful you are, small specks of dust may fall on the surface. Remove these as you go along, before the enamel or varnish has started to set. This can be done by touching the speck lightly with a toothpick tipped with a small ball of chewing gum. The speck will adhere to the gum and the enamel or varnish will flow together again. If a loose bristle falls from the brush flick it off the surface with the tips of the bristles at the edge of the brush.

A smart gardener takes good care of his tools, knowing that they'll last longer and give better service if they are clean. Scrape dirt from the metal parts of all gardening tools, then wash them with hot soap suds in a laundry tub. Dry them carefully, coat the metal with a light film of lubricating oil to prevent rusting and hang them up until the next time they are needed.

Dust on Some Spring

A new dusting powder in a spring-like fragrance comes with a matched set of cologne and cream sachet. Scent is floral and woody.—By ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor.

New Berlin Woman Best In Landscaping

NEW BERLIN — Mrs. A. H. Duewer, New Berlin, has been notified that she has won first place in the state in Division 2 of the Landscaping contest sponsored by the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs. Division 2 includes all homes built since 1946.

The rules of the contest require contestants to be a member of the Woman's Club affiliated with the Illinois Federation, and to send "before" and "after" photographs of the front of the house and area seen from the street. Also any improvement in the landscaping must have been done since 1950 and under the supervision of the occupant of the house.

Mrs. Duewer is a member of the New Berlin Woman's Club of which Mrs. H. F. Zude is Garden Chairman.

ROODHOUSE LEGION AUXILIARY HONORS GOLD STAR MOTHERS

ROODHOUSE — Gold Star members of the American Legion Auxiliary were honored following a potluck dinner held Monday evening in the Legion home. Avel Jackson, Gold Star chairman, presented the program. Yellow rosebuds were presented to those in attendance as follows:

Nona Fry, Nona LaRae Fry, Rachel Gray, Betty Jackson, Clara Whitworth, Grace Bower, Virginia Broche, Jessie Kemp and Ruby Denny.

Maybelle England, president, conducted the meeting. President England named to the nominating committee Emma Crain, Lucille Weddersten, Jessie Kemp, Clara Whitworth and Bernice Jackson.

It was announced that the annual Poppy Day sale will be held May 26 under the direction of Ada Owens.

Plans were made for marching in the Memorial Day parade. The meeting was opened with prayer by the chaplain, Jessie Kemp.

MANCHESTER DORCAS CLASS MEETS AT BLACKBURN HOME

MANCHESTER — The Dorcas Class of Manchester Baptist church met Friday night, May 11, at the rural home of Gladys Blackburn. Ada Hudson was assistant hostess.

President Barbara Odell opened the meeting with prayer. Nine members answered roll call with "a tribute to mother."

Linda and Susan Odell were guests.

During the business session the group voted to give $15 toward a new furnace for the church. Edith Hudson conducted the lesson on the 11th chapter of Matthew.

The hostesses served refreshments during the social hour. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Freda Odell.

Patterson Royal Neighbors Meet Tuesday Evening

PATTERSON — Patterson Camp 5141, Royal Neighbors of America, met in regular session Tuesday evening, two days earlier than usual, due to the meeting night falling on the same date as the Greene-Scott county convention Thursday evening in Roodhouse. Oracle Helen Bain presided.

Twenty-one members answered roll call. During the business session Janis Joy Dawdy was given the obligation, transferring from juvenile to adult membership.

The hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. Verna Doyle and Mrs. Virginia Dawdy, the latter being unable to be present. Others assisted Mrs. Doyle, and served jello salad and cake, after which a number of games were played. Mrs. Bea Taylor was awarded the door prize, which was given by the camp.

Hostesses for the June meeting will be Mrs. Mildred Dawdy and Mrs. Leona Dawdy.

To Meet May 24
 The Women's Missionary Society of the Oak Grove Baptist Church will meet in the home of Mrs. Mildred Hart in White Hall Thursday, May 24.

Personals

The Rev. Henry Loafman, pastor of the Oak Grove Baptist church, and Mrs. Loafman were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Overton in White Hall Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McEvers and son Stanley were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McEvers in Glasgow. Mrs. Gayle McEvers and daughter of Winchester accompanied them home and spent the afternoon.

7th Graders Of Virginia School Tour Jacksonville

VIRGINIA—Seventh grade pupils of Virginia school took a field trip to Jacksonville Tuesday, May 8. They toured the city and visited Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School and Ideal Bakery.

They lunched in Duncan Park and were served further refreshments at the youth center on State street.

A trip through Hertzberg-New Method Book Bindery concluded the day.

Sermon Theme

At the Presbyterian church, the sermon to be delivered by the pastor, Rev. E. M. McGehee, at the 10:30 morning worship service Sunday will be titled "The Holy Spirit."

A letter has been sent to members and friends asking for a contribution for the Illinois Home for the Aged, to be received at the morning service. The home is located in Springfield.

At Conference

Mrs. Bertha Varnum, Cass county home adviser, attended the spring conference for home advisers and assistants at the University of Illinois, May 7-10.

Officers were elected for the Illinois Home Advisers' Association for the coming year.

Program May 21

The Cass County Home Bureau radio program will be presented May 21 at 4 p.m. (DST) by the Arenzville unit. Mrs. George Morrison and Mrs. Virgil Bertelheim are the unit radio committee.

Miss Hamilton Entertains Her Class At Chapin

CHAPIN — The Willing Worker's class of the Chapin Christian church met at the home of Adelia Hamilton for the May meeting with the president, Mrs. Edna Oert, in charge.

A hymn, "Memories of Mother," with Ruth Hutches at the piano, was sung. After a model prayer scripture was read by Adelia Hamilton. Roll call was answered with naming of a favorite flower.

During the business session announcement was made that $71 was paid on the new water heater. After the benediction a program of readings was presented with all present participating. The readings were furnished by Mrs. Lelia Thompson.

Three Bible contests were conducted by the hostess after which refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch were served. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lois Williams.

MRS. BARNARD ENTERTAINS PAST ORACLES' CLUB

WHITE HALL—Mrs. John Barnard was hostess at her home Monday night to the Past Oracles' Club of Royal Neighbors of America Camp 987.

Ivamae Dickerson was installed as president. Dorothy M. Young as vice president and Lucy Book as secretary-treasurer for the coming year.

Guests included Mrs. Mae DeShazier, Mrs. Beal Cotter and Mrs. Arla Moore. Mrs. Cotter became a member of the club, being a past oracle of the Hillview camp.

Bunco was played with the floating prizes going to Lena Bertram, high to Ivamae Dickerson, low to Olive Cotter, bunco to Mae DeShazier, and door to Arla Moore.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake, iced tea, nuts and candy were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Pansy McCarthy will entertain the group in June.

Chapin W.S.C.S. Elects Officers; Picnic June 20

Officers for the coming year were elected as the Chapin Methodist W.S.C.S. met Wednesday afternoon, May 9, at the home of Mrs. H. P. Joy. Eight members were present.

Elected were: president, Mrs. Verne Smith; vice president, Mrs. James Anderson; secretary, Mrs. Wayne Bracewell; treasurer, Mrs. Harry Onken; social relations and local church activities chairman, Mrs. H. P. Joy; secretary of promotion, Mrs. Earl White.

Secretary of missionary education, Mrs. Harry Onken; supply work chairman, Mrs. Frank Kellogg; student work chairman, Mrs. James Anderson; literature and publications chairman, Mrs. Verne Smith; flowers and cards chairman, Mrs. Alden Allen.

Mrs. Culp was accepted as a new member of the group.

Mrs. James Anderson read the secretary's report and Mrs. Verne Smith gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Alden Allen conducted the program, which concerned missions.

The hostess served refreshments at the close of the meeting. The group will next meet June 20 for a picnic. Mrs. Warren Jay and Mrs. Warren Smith will be hostesses.

MEREDOSIA HIGH SENIORS ON TRIP

Seek To Reverse Ruling On State Sedition Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department endorsed Thursday a bill to reverse the April 2 decision of the Supreme Court nullifying state laws against sedition.

A number of Congress members have disputed the court's ruling that Congress intended to occupy the field exclusively when it passed various laws against subversions.

Backing a bill by Sen. Bridges (R-NH) which would declare the field open to both federal and state legal efforts, Dep. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers wrote Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) the department feels "the federal and state governments can work together easily and well" in the field.

Eastland heads the Senate Judiciary Committee, which is considering Bridges' bill.

Conductor's Wish For Greenville Hospital Granted

GREENVILLE, Ill. (AP)—This town of 4,500 is finally going to have a hospital — thanks to the family of a former St. Louis streetcar conductor which made a fortune in real estate.

Mrs. Edward Ullaut of St. Louis, only survivor of the family, made a $50,000 pledge toward the hospital to carry out the wishes of her dead husband and son.

She journeyed 45 miles to Greenville Thursday to make an initial payment of $10,000. Townspeople also are raising funds.

Mrs. Ullaut's husband, born on a farmer near here, went to St. Louis and became a streetcar conductor. Their only son, Elmer E. Ullaut, although stricken with multiple sclerosis, married the family's real estate investments.

The family prospered. Before the death of the son in 1949 and the father three years later, they decided to do something about giving Greenville its first hospital.

IKE NOMINATES CANTON MAN AS SOUTH STATE JUDGE

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has nominated a Canton, Ill., attorney to be district judge for southern Illinois.

The President Thursday sent the nomination of Frederick O. Mercer, 55, a former Illinois assistant state's attorney, to the Senate.

Mercer formerly was a Fulton county judge and now is in private law practice in Canton.

If confirmed by the Senate, he will succeed the late Judge J. Leroy Adair of Quincy.

Informed of the nomination, Mercer told a newsmen, "Of course, I'm tremendously happy about it. I will be very proud at the opportunity to serve my country."

FARMER CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER IN SHOTGUN KILLING

PRINCETON, Ind. (AP)—John Armstrong, 61-year-old Gibson county farmer, was convicted of manslaughter Thursday in the shotgun killing last Nov. 22 of Ernest Koon, 40, of Carmi, Ill.

Koon was shot during an argument at Armstrong's home, eight miles north of Princeton. Prosecuting attorneys maintained Armstrong shot Koon while the latter was seated in a chair. Armstrong said he shot when Koon lunged at him.

Sentencing was deferred. The charge carries a sentence of two to 21 years.

MOCK ACCIDENT SHOWS HARD TO IDENTIFY DRIVER

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—More than 100 of the Southwest's best law enforcement officers watched a mock hit-and-run accident here and couldn't do much better than the average citizen at identifying the driver or the automobile.

The officers, seated in the bleachers at the University of Oklahoma as part of the Southwest Homicide Investigators Seminar, watched a "dummy" 3-year-old boy run down. The sleuths were caught by surprise.

Only one of the group spotted the license number of the car, and all differed on the model of the vehicle and how the driver was dressed.

FORECASTS SLIGHT BUSINESS DROP

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—A possible slight business downturn in the July-September quarter is forecast by some industrialists assembled here for a meeting of Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council.

Expressing some concern over the "tight money" policy of the Federal Reserve Board, the businessmen said privately that rising interest rates might discourage companies from extensive borrowing for plant and equipment expansion.

ROMANIA, ICELAND FORM PACT LONDON (AP)—Romania has reached an agreement with Iceland for establishing diplomatic relations between the two countries. Bucharest radio reported today.

IT was late, but Basil Willing read on:

"Byrd told her that we were both married now with children of our own, but she was quietly obstinate. Didn't we know of anyone else in America who would adopt Cristina?"

"Byrd thought for a few minutes and said yes. He had gone to college in the West where one of his teachers was a kindly man with a wife and no children. A Professor Lash, who was moving to Blake University in the East next fall. He and his wife had always wanted children. If Byrd and I contributed to Cristina's support they would probably be glad to adopt her. As they had always lived in the West until now, no one in the East need ever know that Cristina was not really their child.

"It took time and money and a good deal of negotiation but it was all arranged. The Lashes came to Mexico and spent that summer getting to know the child before they made their decision. They adopted her legally in Mexico before her mother's death. We soon discovered that getting Cristina into America as the Lashes' adopted daughter would be more difficult. New immigration laws had been passed after the war. It would take a long time to get Cristina in on the Mexican quota, but wasn't she still a Mexican, since she had not been adopted in the United States? By that time Cristina's mother would be dead and who would take care of Cristina?"

"Rules and regulations always made Byrd impatient. He had a private plane with him and the temple was great. So Cristina entered the country illegally.

"Before we left Mexico I had an official copy of the adoption paper made and put in a green envelope I picked up in the office of our Mexican lawyer. It was the same local stationery Senora Mendoza used when she first wrote to Byrd, and I still use it and the red string the Mexican lawyer wrapped around it for my file of documents about Cristina because I can tell it from all my other papers at a glance.

"WHEN Byrd and I left Mexico we thought we had done the best we could for everyone concerned in this unhappy business, but we would have been warned by a remark that the senora made during our last interview. She said, 'Cristina believes that an American soldier shot her father. How could I possibly tell her the truth?'

"We had no premonition at all of the price we would have to pay for this lie.

"I believe that Cristina was happy in her new home, but one of those unexpected blows from outside the orbit of one's own life altered everything for her and for us. Mrs. Lash was suspected of left-wing associations when so many pseudo-intellectual women with more zeal than common sense learned far to the left. Some years after her death the physics Department at Blake was involved in a loyalty hearing and this gossip about Mrs. Lash was brought out in testimony against her husband. The University, fearful of antagonizing wealthy alumni, dismissed poor Lash who had never been accused of anything. I went through the lie on his case just before I left Washington and I'm convinced of his innocence.

"There's nothing I can do about his reinstatement because the shock of dismissal brought on a stroke. He has no salary or pension now, nothing, but the money Byrd and I still contribute to Cristina's support. To Cristina,

CAA Predicts Smaller Airports, A-Power By 1965

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration, taking a look into the future, sees a start toward smaller airports and toward atomic-powered airliners by 1965.

By that time, it predicted Thursday, the atomic power plants for commercial airlines will be "on the drawing boards of civil aircraft manufacturers."

And because the future will bring better planes, able to use shorter and narrower runways, "airports will stop growing in size about 1965," the CAA said in a forward look to mark the occasion of its approaching 30th birthday.

RUSS TO HAVE TRAVEL AGENCY

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia has made its first move toward setting up an official travel agency to promote touring to the Soviet Union.

Valentin Spiridonov, of Intourist the Russian tourist agency, arrived by plane Thursday — the first agency official to enter the United States 1939.

WAR BRIDE JUMPS FROM WINDOW TO ESCAPE BEATING

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—A magistrate went to the bedside of a paralyzed Japanese war bride Thursday to arraign her husband on a charge of atrocious assault and battery after her third-floor leap from their apartment.

Mrs. Sachiko Gaston, 25, claimed she jumped from the window to avoid more of her husband's blows at their home on Jan. 25. Mrs. Gaston has been paralyzed from the waist down. Her husband Ronald, also 25, was held on $2,500 bail by Magistrate Harold Krieger. Mrs. Gaston blamed their difficulties on drinking.

Four Crackups Mar Trials At Indianapolis Motor Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Leon Sutton, a 30-year-old rookie driver from Portland, Ore., suffered face and hand cuts Friday when his Wolcott special went out of control, flipped and rolled into the infield at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway where he was practicing for the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race.

Hospital attendants said the cuts on one hand were severe. Mechanics reported the car will not be in condition until qualification runs next weekend.

There were three other accidents Friday. Don Freeland of Los Angeles spun his car on the southwest turn and bumped the concrete retaining wall twice. Freeland was not hurt.

Mike Magill of Haddonfield, N. J., brushed the wall while coming out of a spin, but neither he nor the car was hurt. Eddie Russo's Belond-Miracle Power special went into a spin but emerged undamaged.

A couple of Irishmen Friday recorded their challenge of the Novi which had set a one-lap time record and is favored to lead in Saturday's qualification trial.

Pat O'Connor of North Vernon, Ind., was timed unofficially at 145.9 miles an hour in the same four-cylinder Ansted-Rotary special in which he held second place last Memorial Day when mechanical trouble stopped him.

George Francis Patrick Flaherty of Chicago was clocked in the John Zink special at 145.6 on a late afternoon run.

Tigers Rally For Three Runs To Trip Orioles 3-2

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, shut out on four hits for 8 1-3 innings by southpaw Don Ferrarese, exploded for three runs in the ninth Friday and gained a 3-2 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles.

The big blow was a two-run double by reserve first baseman Jack Phillips. The winning run came two plays later when Oriole first baseman Gus Triandos took pinch hitter Charlie Maxwell's roller and threw past second base. It went as a fielder's choice, an error and the ball game.

Ferrarese had run his string of scoreless innings to 17 before the Tigers scattered away an almost certain victory.

The victory went to Billy Hoelt, his third against a single loss. The Detroit left-hander scattered even hits and matched Ferrarese pitch for pitch after the second inning when Baltimore scored both its runs.

Win Race Before Retirement Talk: Nashua Owner

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—"Let's win the race first then we'll talk about retirement."

Those were the words of Leslie Combs 2nd when asked whether Nashua would be retired to stud if he wins the $30,000 added Camden Handicap at Garden State Park Saturday.

Combs was contacted in Kentucky via telephone for comment on the retirement subject.

If Nashua wins Saturday he'll become the all-time leading money winner.

Combs' terse statement probably should be taken at its face value rather than as an effort to avoid a straight answer. After all, this is horse racing and there is no guarantee Nashua is going to win.

A look at the field which probably will march pastward for the mile and a furlong event shows Nashua will have four rivals—Fisherman, Mr. First, Milieux and Galder.

The Combs horse figures to be odds on favorite at about 2-5. Fisherman appears second choice. He'll have a nine-pound pull in the weights, 120 to 129 for Nashua.

Nashua has earned $1,077,615 in 23 races, including 18 victories, 3 seconds and a third. He needs $8,146 to pass Citation's current world money winning lead of $1,085,760.

The Camden, if five go post-ward, will gross $33,600 out of which the winner will receive $22,750. He must win to pass Citation, since second money is worth only $6,000.

VINEGAR BEND? PARIS, Tex. (AP)—A bird flew into the cab of James Daniel Johnson's pickup truck.

Johnson grabbed for the bird and lost control of the truck. The pickup crashed into a vinegar tank car standing on a railroad siding, causing $250 damage to the truck and $150 to the tank car.

East Aurora's chances were jolted when Bob Schindler and Bob McCue failed to qualify.

Stan Lopata Homers In 7th To Give Phils 4-2 Win Over Cards

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Stan Lopata homered in the seventh inning with two on to put the Philadelphia Phillies ahead and they added a run in the eighth to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 4-2 Friday night.

Curt Simmons giving up only three hits, pitched his first complete game since July 20, 1955. Willie Schmidt was the loser.

Lopata, coming to bat after Marv Blaylock walked and Del Ennis doubled, blasted his fifth homer of the season into the upper left field stands.

In the scoreless Cards' eighth, manager Fred Hutchinson got himself tossed out of the game after a rhabarb with umpire Art Gore over the ball and strike count.

The Cards were hitless until the fifth when Wally Moon singled and scored on a double by Bobby Del Greco. The second tally was in the top of the seventh on a triple by Stan Musial who scored after Rip Repulski was thrown out by shortstop Roy Smalley.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota continued its effective use of the home run as the Gophers beat the Michigan State 7-3 Friday to remain atop the Big Ten baseball standings.

Right fielder Bill Horning rapped out two of the Gophers' three home runs to account for three runs. Short Cochran banged out the other.

Minnesota now has a 9-1 record while Michigan State dropped to 3-3. The Gophers play a double-header Saturday against Michigan.

Bloom Captures Five Places In Saturday's Finals Of IHSA Meet

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Bloom of Chicago Heights lived up fully to its role of favorite Friday by winning five places in Saturday's finals of the state high school track and field meet at Illinois Memorial Stadium.

The sweep of positions for the well-balanced Trojans topped preliminary qualifying trials on a gusty day and left Bloom an overwhelming choice to capture his first state title.

Outstanding for the Trojans were Fred Macklin and a mile relay team that qualified in 3:23.8, best time of the season and only five-tenths of a second off the state record.

Macklin anchored the baton squad after winning the broad jump with a leap of 21-8 1/2. He won by a mere 1 inch over Ken Miller of DeKalb.

The only other final on opening day, the discus, was won by Joel Peterson of East Rockford with a heave of 157-6 1/2.

Bloom collected five points for Macklin's victory and an unexpected one point in the discus when Tony Bartalini took fifth place.

Bloom grabbed qualifying positions in every event it entered except the 220-yard dash and the pole vault. Members of its record-seeking mile relay team, in addition to Macklin, included Chuck Collins, Nick Thomas, and Bob Green.

Despite variable wind, several fine performances were registered in the trials, although no records topped.

John Lattimore of Phillips (Chicago) stepped the 440 in .49, only two-tenths of a second off the mark, and sped the 220 in .21.8 compared with the record of .21.0.

Willie Marti of Phillips, who set the 180-yard low hurdles record of 19.2 in last year's prelims then failed in the finals when he fell, posted a time 19.5 in one of his heats Friday. Frank Carra of Bloom was close to him with 19.8.

East Aurora's chances were jolted when Bob Schindler and Bob McCue failed to qualify.

Redlegs Go 10 Innings To Beat Dodgers 7-6

BROOKLYN (AP)—The free-swinging Cincinnati Redlegs got rid of Carl (no-hit) Erskine early, but had to go 10 innings Friday night before wrecking Brooklyn's six-game winning streak 7-6 on Ray Jablonski's second home run of the game as untested Brooks Lawrence staggered to his fifth victory.

Jabbo, who drove in four runs for the Redlegs with a solo homer in the second and a bases-loaded single that chased Erskine in the third, teed off on reliever Ed Roebuck, for the winning shot with one out in the 10th. It was Jablonski's eighth of the season.

Roebuck, without a previous decision, was the fifth Dodger hurler to face the Redlegs, who belted 12 hits while climbing within 6 1/2 of a half game of the third place World Champions.

Erskine, bidding for a second straight no-hitter after blanking the New York Giants 3-0 last Saturday, lasted only 2 1-3 innings, giving up six hits. He was charged with the first five Redleg runs.

10th Inning Hit By Carey Gives Yanks 8-7 Win

CVHICAGO (AP)—Andy Carey's run-scoring single in the 10th inning with two out snapped a 7-7 tie and pushed the New York Yankees to an 8-7 victory over the Chicago White Sox Friday night in a wild contest in which Mickey Mantle hit home runs from both sides of the plate.

Sugar Ray's Next Goal Is Shot At Moore's Title

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Minutes after retaining his middleweight boxing title, Sugar Ray Robinson indicated his next goal will be another shot at the light heavyweight crown.

Breathing normally in a dressing room filled with jubilation, Robinson nodded when one of his managers, Joe Glasser, told newsmen they now wanted to go after the 175-pound title currently owned by Archie Moore.

Sugar Ray tried once before to go up a step and lost via a 14th round kayo to ex-champ Joe Maxim in 1952.

About the Olson fight, Robinson said:

"Olson didn't hurt me although he did get in a good left hook to my stomach in the third round. He isn't a devastating puncher but I knew I was hit."

"Somebody asked the turning point of the fight."

"When I knocked him out," the Harlem dandy laughed back. Olson still was dazed and dejected in his dressing room. He kept shaking his head and asking his manager Sid Flaherty:

"How could it happen so fast?" Bobo said he never saw the punch and never heard the referee's count of 10.

"All I know is that when I got up I saw all the people standing."

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (U.S.A.)—Hogs hit another new high for the year Friday as they advanced for the ninth straight trading session.

Cats averaged around 25 cents in active dealings. Arrival of only 5,500 salable head, 1,000 less than expected, helped the upturn. Top price was $18.00, paid for 80 head averaging 200 to 210 pounds.

This was the best price for hogs since July 25, 1935, when $18.00 also was paid. But it remained under the top price of one year ago $19.25.

Hog prices normally advance at this time of year as shipments to market slump, livestock men said. Last year the advance continued until June 21, when the high for the year was set at $22.75. Thereafter prices slid sharply until December, when the top was $11.75 in two days.

Most 190 to 280-pound butchers brought $17.00 to $17.50 with several lots at $17.00 to $17.50. A few 290 to 320-pounders moved at $16.25 to $17.00. Sows sold from $13.00 to $14.25.

Steers and heifers held nominally steady in the cattle section, where salable receipts totaled 500 head. A few loads and small lots of good and choice steers sold for $18.00 to $20.50.

Cows sold fully steady at $11.75 to $14.00 for utility and commercial and $10.25 to $12.50 for canners and cutters. Vealers also were fully steady at $24.00 to $26.00 for choice and prime.

Salable sheep receipts totaled 200. These consisted mainly of shorn old crop lambs, good and choice kinds going at $22.00 to $23.50.

GRAINS DROP AFTER SENATE ACTION ON LOW GRADE WHEAT

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (U.S.A.)—Grains dropped in the latter part of the session on the Board of Trade Friday after showing early strength.

The turnabout, which was abrupt, came after the Senate approved a measure which would permit the government to sell some of its low grade wheat for feeding purposes.

Corn and oats were hardest hit by the sudden selling. Old crop corn, which had been about 1 1/2 cent higher early, dropped about 3 1/2 cents from its peak and then rallied slightly. New crop months held up better.

Wheat closed 3 1/2-2 1/2 lower, corn 1 1/4 lower, oats unchanged to 1/4 lower, rye 1/2 lower to 3/4 higher, soybeans 1/2 lower to 1 cent higher and laid unchanged to 8 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Passage of the wheat-feed amendment to the farm bill evidently caught the trade by surprise and the first reaction was that it could depress prices of feed grains.

Old crop soybeans spurted sharply in early dealings. At one time they had gains extending to more than 5 cents. They were supported by sales of soybean oil to Spain, reports Italy would buy soybean oil next week, and an advance by soybean meal to new highs for the year.

In the cash market soybean meal sold at $62.50 to $63.00 a ton, up $1.00 to $1.50, while soybean oil was 1/4 cent higher at 15 1/2 cents a pound.

On the late sell off old crop soybeans gave up practically all their early gains.

New York Stock Market
By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK (U.S.A.)—There wasn't much spirit in the stock market Friday, and it declined mildly after a modest early rise.

Prices were up at the start of trading, giving rise to a belief that Thursday market might be able to carry through with the rally that Thursday produced some good gains.

The market managed to carry on ahead until late in the day when selling was enough to bring the price trend down and bring about a slightly lower finish.

The Associated Press averaged 60 stocks was off 20 cents at $183.30. It was ahead $1.10 Thursday. The industrial component backed down 20 cents, railroads were off 20 cents, but utilities were up 20 cents.

Volume came to 2,020,000 shares as compared with 1,970,000 traded Thursday.

The American Stock Exchange was slightly higher on volume of 790,000 shares as compared with 870,000 traded Thursday.

Indict Mother Who Admitted Poisoning Six

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (U.S.A.)—A 49-year-old waitress, who admitted killing her mother, three small daughters and two husbands with ant poison was indicted Friday on the last of six murder charges.

Plump, auburn-haired Mrs. Rhonda Belle Martin already was under indictment on three first-degree murder counts when the Montgomery County grand jury added three more Friday afternoon.

She also is charged with trying to murder her fifth and present husband, who is the son of one of the other husbands Mrs. Martin has admitted poisoning. The surviving victim, Ronald C. Martin, 28, is paralyzed from effects of arsenic.

The 170-pound waitress faces trial the week of June 4 with death in the electric chair as the maximum penalty. Only one other woman has been put to death by electrocution in Alabama.

Mrs. Martin was indicted today for the slayings of Claude Martin, her fourth husband and father of Ronald Martin; George Garrett, her second husband, and Carolyn Garrett, 6-year-old daughter by Garrett. Martin died in 1951, Garrett in 1939 and Carolyn in 1940.

The defendant was indicted in Mobile last month for the deaths of her mother, Mrs. Mary Frances Gibbon who died in 1944, and two other daughters, 3-year-old Emogene Garrett and 11-year-old Elynn Elizabeth Garrett. Emogene died in 1937, the other child six years later.

Circuit Solicitor William F. Theford said Mrs. Martin in her signed statement admitting the killings was vague about a motive. But he said she collected varying amounts of insurance on each death ranging from a few hundred dollars to between $3,000 and $4,000 on Claude Martin.

Explosion Damages Two Big Motors At City Light Plant

Two large motors at the Jacksonville municipal power plant were badly damaged in a violent explosion at 8:15 o'clock Friday morning, which blew out a number of windows in both ends of the plant and caused injuries to two employees, one of whom was treated at a hospital.

Five employees of the generating plant were endangered by the blast, which was accompanied by a powerful concussion, followed by dense white smoke.

Electric power on the municipal lines throughout the city was disrupted 15 minutes.

Damage centered in a 2,000 horsepower Fairbanks, Morse motor, which was being started at the time of the explosion.

Dr. Alexander To Lead Panel At Springfield

Dr. Robert Alexander of the Psychology Department of MacMurray College will take part next Thursday in the annual meeting sponsored in Springfield by the Illinois State Nurses Association and the South Central League for Nurses.

A workshop program will be held at Memorial hospital in Springfield from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. on Thursday, and Dr. Alexander will lead a panel discussion on a psychological topic. The principal speaker for the annual meeting is Dr. Paul Nicholas Dallas, M.D. (Rex Morgan). The nurse's workshop is sponsored by the Mental Hygiene Society in cooperation with the 9th, 10th and 14th districts of the Illinois State Nurses Association and the South Central League for Nurses.

It has been announced that the purpose of the workshop is to understand the dynamic factors recurring in various kinds of illnesses and their implications to the nursing profession, so that nurses may be able to translate mental health principles into daily practice.

The blast ripped a 200 pound chunk of cast iron from the manifold, which fell to the concrete floor. Another section of the manifold tore through a companion motor on the south, knocking a large gap in one of the cast iron parts.

Glen Litter Burned

Glen Litter, 28, of 606 East Morton avenue, was at the starting wheel of the big motor and had just given it a turn when the explosion occurred.

Litter suffered from concussion, and was burned on his face and hands. His condition, however, is not serious.

He was taken to Our Saviour's hospital by Police Officer Charles Runkel, given emergency treatment, and returned to the generating plant.

John Savoie and John Worrall, other operators, were within a few feet of the motor when the explosion occurred. Both experienced concussion, but remained on the job and went to work instantly to bring back service to the lines.

Savoie sustained slight burns on his arms and hands.

Bill Baulos, maintenance man, and Bill Turner, janitor, were in the building and felt the concussion.

The explosion was heard at the water purification plant, some distance to the south, and at service stations and homes in the vicinity of Hardin and Morton avenue.

Glass Showers Desk

Glass showered the desk of Chief Engineer Paul Harmon, who goes to work at 8:30 and had not reached the plant when the motor blew up. Harmon arrived within a few minutes and went to work with others to restore service.

Among first arrivals at the plant were N. J. Butler, superintendent of the City Water, Light & Sewer Department, and Fire Chief Howard Reynolds.

For a few minutes after the explosion its full impact on the plant was not known. The motor in which the blast occurred was put out of commission instantly, as was another nearby, due to the damage from flying metal. Four motors remained in working order, and were switched on within 15 minutes after tests.

Windows Shattered

Several shattered windows in the front and rear of the building were visible evidence of the force of the concussion.

Butler, Harmon and others connected with the plant said the explosion originated in the air manifold of the motor, which uses both Diesel oil and natural gas. The exact cause of the blast could not be determined. It was said, until the motor was taken apart.

Officials said the damage is covered by insurance. Representatives of an insurance company were notified.

As power service was cut off suddenly throughout the city, many phone calls resulted.

Fire Destroys Home Of Bluffs Widow Day After Policy Lapses

BLUFFS—Flames consumed the frame home of Mrs. Maud Bates at Bluffs Friday morning and threatened for a time the adjoining property. The alarm was turned in at 8:05 a. m. and although the firehouse is located on one side of the Wabash railroad tracks, near the center of the town, and the Bates home on the opposite the house burned swiftly and only the shell was left at noon.

A freight train was approaching the crossing at Bluffs and the engineer saw the fire truck pulling out of the engine house. The truck had to wait a short time to leave the engine house while a trailer truck was moved giving the railroad engineer time to see the situation. The train engineer was able to stop the train in time to leave the crossing clear for the fire truck to cross the tracks.

Mrs. Bates was awakened early Friday morning by the smoke and gave the alarm. The two story home is only partially occupied by Mrs. Bates, a widow. The cause was undetermined.

Just the day before on Thursday when contacted by her insurance representative Mrs. Bates had allowed the insurance policy on her home to lapse. The house is estimated at a value of under two thousand dollars.

Firemen used gallons of water to protect the residence next door to the burning home, known as the Comerford property, and occupied by the Walter Cumby family.

Mrs. Bates' wife of the late Harry Bates who for years traveled for the Kohl grocery company. At the present she is staying with neighbors.
